Save a Little as You Go!

Simple Simon ran a bill
And found he couldn't pay it,
He wired his dad—
The foolish lad—
To see if he'd O. K. it.
Father telegraphed at once,
Sent these ten words collect:
"Save a little as you go
Will have the desired effect"

NORTH LIMA

Jan. 5.—Martin, eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pufferberger of North Lima was instantly killed at about noon, Thursday, when the team which he was holding for his father became frightened and ran away, throwing him from the wagon to the ground between the horses. The back of the wagon was piled high with cornfodder and several bundles slipped forward striking the horses, causing them to run. A wheel of the wagon passed over the boy's head and his skull was fractured, causing instant death. He was a bright boy and well liked by companions and schoolmates, and his sad death was a great shock to the community. Surviving with the grief-stricken parents is one sister, Florence. Funeral services were held on New Year's afternoon from the home, and were largely attended by young and old. Interment in the North Lima cemetery.
In compliance with the demands of the State Department of Public Instruction, the board of education found it necessary to appropriate the school auditorium for the use of the high school, and the former assembly room will be used for the eighth grade. This will relieve the congestion in the school building to a sufficient degree to be able to retain the rank of first grade in the state. It has also been necessary in order to retain the first grade charter to lengthen the term to 34 weeks, and it may be found necessary later on to increase it to 36. The appropriating of the auditorium to the high school leave the community once more without a hall for use for entertainments, institutes or gatherings, outside of the churches.

A farmers' institute will be held here Jan. 10 and 11. The high school room will be used for these meetings, and high school will be dismissed during these sessions. This institute will be under the direction of the state department of agriculture and promises to be of much interest to farmers. A local committee is co-operating with the state in making arrangements and securing speakers for the program.
